

The Colonnade

VOL XI

GEORGIA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN, MILLEDGEVILLE, GA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1936

NUMBER 27

BEESON IS HONORED BY CHEMISTS

Ruth Flurry Elected 1937 Spectrum Editor

Staff Elects Starke, Collar and Peacock

Following the results of the staff election held last week, Ruth Flurry will edit the 1937 Spectrum. She will succeed Mildred Watson, editor of this year's annual which is due off the press May 25. Ruth is the associate editor of the 1936 year book.

The retiring staff of the Spectrum is to be congratulated on the excellent staff they have selected for the coming year. For the editor they have chosen a person who has had much experience with the editing of year books. In addition to her assisting with the Spectrum, Ruth was on the annual staff of her high school, Atlanta Girls High, and also edited the year book of Cox College from which school she transferred to G. S. C. W. in her sophomore year.

The other members of the staff include Grace Collar, associate editor; Julia Burgin, literary editor; Jane O'Neal, organizations editor; Mignonette Stocker, club editor; Louise Crowder, art editor; Jessie McCollum, feature editor; and Mattilee Stapleton, photographic editor.

The business staff is headed by Harriette Starke, former assistant business manager. Working with her will be Mary Peacock, as advertising manager; Sara Bethel, as assistant advertising manager; Mary Frances Manning, as secretary; and Mary John Brown, as circulation manager.

Seniors Present Nautical Class Day Program

In a setting quite authentically nautical and appropriate to the occasion will come the climax of the senior Class Day exercises Thursday when the senior anchor is presented to the junior class and next year's graduates officially take over Ennis hall.

The presentation of the anchor will be made by Caroline Ridley and will be accepted by Juliette Burrus, president of next year's senior class. Following the presentation, in front of senior hall, the juniors will enter Ennis recreation hall and "weigh anchor." They will then be honor guests at an open house given by the senior class.

The official taking over of the senior dormitory will climax activities planned by the class for the entire day Thursday.

The nautical theme will be used throughout this year's Class Day exercises. All decorations and costumes will be made accordingly. The chapel exercises will be a major part of the program. This program will represent the sailing of the "S.S. Senior" and the scene will be on the deck of a large ocean liner.

A floor show will be held with the ship's crew and passengers taking part. Caroline Ridley will act as master of ceremonies. The entire class will take part in this part of the program.

Committees in charge of arrangements were headed by the class officers, Caroline Ridley, Josephine Fortson, Rosalie Sutton, Weldon Seals, and Mabelle Swan, and Martha Hale, Kathleen Roberts, and Sara Jane Deck.

DR. J. L. BEESON, President Emeritus

Certificate Presented At Herty Dinner

Saturday night, May 16, 1936, Dr. J. L. Beeson was honored by the Georgia Section of the American Chemical Society with a certificate of merit and appreciation. The occasion was the Herty Day banquet which preceded Dr. W. H. MacIntire's address. There were many members of the Society there to witness the presentation. Dr. Guy Wells introduced Dr. J. Sam Guy, of Emory, who presented the certificate.

Dr. Guy spoke in behalf of the whole Georgia Section of the American Chemical Society to express to Dr. Beeson sincere appreciation for the work that he has done. Dr. Guy gave a short summary of Dr. Beeson's life up to the present date and then in very beautiful and fitting words expressed the love and gratitude of the members of the Georgia section.

Dr. Guy said, "A scholar beyond question, a teacher of marked success and above all, a Christian gentleman, a member of learned societies, an elder in the Presbyterian church, an author of a number of scientific papers, possessing all these finer qualities which have culminated in the making of a full life--Dr. Beeson, Professor Beeson, President Beeson, it is my peculiar pleasure at this time to hand you this certificate, engraved in letters of gold, as a token of love and appreciation from your fellow members of the Georgia Section of the American Chemical Society. Expresses the sentiment of every one of us here."

Dr. Beeson accepted the honor (Continued on page 3)

Jester Play To Be Staged On Friday

Final rehearsals for the last Jester-sponsored production of the year, "The Late Christopher Bean," are scheduled for this week prior to the staging of the play on Friday night, May 29.

The faculty five--Mr. Noah, Mr. Capel, and Drs. Salley Walden, and McGee, will again take the male roles. The ladies of the cast include Margaret Sullivan, Olin Thorpe, Elizabeth Garbutt, and Millie Moses.

The roles to be taken by each member of the cast are as follows: Margaret Sullivan, as Abby, the "help" of the Haggatts; Mr. Noah, as Dr. Haggatt; Oline Thorpe, as Susan Haggatt, the youngest daughter; Elizabeth Garbutt, as Mrs. Haggatt; Millie Moses, as Ada Haggatt, the older daughter; Mr. Capel, as Warren Creamer, the village painter; Dr. McGee, as Tallent; Dr. Salley, as Rosen; and Dr. Walden, as Maxwell Davenport.

The play is being directed by Mrs. Noah, assisted by Catherine Mallory.

Sophs Entertain Senior Sisters

The sophomore class entertained their senior sisters and all two year sophomores at a theatre party last night at the Campus. The picture shown was Robert Taylor and Janet Gaynor in "Small Town Girl." The committee in charge of arrangements included Eolyne Greene, Grace Collar, Mary Wooten, Betty Shell, Libby Smith, and TeCoah Harner.

Camp Crafters At Joy Cliff On Field Trip

The students of the Camp Craft class and their visitors under the leadership of Miss Rosabel Burch and Miss Blanche Tait recently spent a week-end at Camp Joycliffe. The party left on Friday afternoon and remained until Sunday.

The program committee headed by Catherine Mallory arranged skits and games for the campfire on Saturday night. On that night each cabin gave an original stunt. Songs were held each morning and at each meal.

Vi James was in charge of swimming and the blistered (Continued on page 4)

Juniors Honor Senior Class

Members of the junior class entertained the seniors with a dance in the library on Saturday night. The "Tech Ramblers" played for the occasion. Three no-breaks and a senior leadout were held during the evening.

Chaperones included Dr. and Mrs. Guy Wells, Dr. and Mrs. Hoy Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. S. L. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Max Noah, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Scott, Miss Ethel Adams and Miss Iva Chandler. Special guests of the junior class were Miss Marv Thomas Maxwell, Miss Violet Foster, and Mr. W. C. Capel.

The committees in charge of arrangements were headed by Marv Ellen Calhoun, chaperones: Catherine Calhoun, refreshments: Catherine Mallory, orchestra: Avlona Athon, flowers; and Marian Baughn, invitations.

Contract for New Dormitory Awarded; To Be Completed By Early Fall

Mr. Miller S. Bell, of the board of regents of the University system made the official announcement to the student body that the bid for the new dormitory to be constructed on the campus had been awarded and that it would be completed by fall. The announcement was made at chapel on Wednesday and followed a special meeting of the board of regents here on Tuesday afternoon at which time the contracts was awarded to Collins Company, of Atlanta.

The new dormitory is the first of a number of buildings that will be provided under the PWA grant. The building will cost approximately $77,000 and will house 120 girls. Some faculty apartments will be available in addition to the dormitory space. A recreation hall, music rooms, and a practice house to be used by the home economics department are other features of the new building.

According to an announcement made by Dr. Wells the new dormitory will be occupied by sophomores and juniors.

Mr. Bell spoke of the possibility of obtaining additional government funds to match state funds so as to allow for an even more extensive building program throughout the entire University system. Dr. S. V. Sanford, chancellor of the University System, will leave for Washington very shortly to investigate possibilities of a further grant.

(Continued on page 3)

History Club Visits Mounds

More than seventy persons, including members of the History Club Mr. Massey's Social Science 200 class, and others interested, made a trip to Macon Saturday to see the Ocmulgee Indian mounds. The group left at the college at 1:30 and the trip to Macon was made in school busses.

Dr. A. R. Kelly, Smithsonian Institute archeologist in charge of the excavations, directed the party about the mounds and explained the work that is being carried on there in excavating the ancient town of the Ocmulgees.

This trip culminated the activities of the history club for the year. Faculty members who accompanied the group included Dr. Amanda Johnson, Miss Helen Green, Miss Ida Pound, and Mr. Herbert N. Massey.

The Colonnade

Published Weekly During School Year,
Except During Holidays and Examination
Periods By The Students of The
Georgia State College for Women
MILLEDGEVILLE, GEORGIA
Corner Hancock and Clark Streets
Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year

Entered as second-class matter October 30,
1928, at the post office, Milledgeville, Ga.,
under the Act of March 3, 1879."

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor ..... Evelyn Aubry
Associate Editor ..... Lucy Caldwell
News Editors ..... Jeanne Armour
Mary Kethley
Betty Holloway
Feature Editor ..... Marian Arthur

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager ..... Frances Daniel
Advertising Manager ..... Avelina Athon
Circulation Manager ..... Betty Shell
Exchange Editor ..... Bonnie Burge

To The Retiring Editor

With this edition of the Colonnade the new staff takes over the work of publication leaving the retiring staff to rest on their well-earned and justly deserved laurels. Under the guidance of the old staff Colonnade history has been made; the paper has undergone probably the most radical modifications since the time of its establishment.

To the retiring editor, Betty Reed, a special word of recognition and commendation for work well done is due. The first person ever to hold the position of editor for more than one year, she has also been instrumental in establishing several other "firsts" in regard to the publication. During her first term as editor, advertising was inserted in the Colonnade, an arrangement which has proved of mutual benefit to merchants and students. Previous to her leadership, advertising had been excluded from all college publications.

The 1935 Parent's Day issue was the first edition of the paper ever to be larger than six pages. She initiated special editions of the Colonnade with the twelve-page paper which was circulated to the parent guests on the campus. This was followed by the first burlesque edition of the Colonnade which ever appeared on the campus.

This year she has broken her own records with the sixteen-page Parents' edition, the special G. S. C. W. edition, and that history-making issue, the election extra in the history of the paper.

She has set a high standard for the new staff to continue. Under no other editor have such rapid strides in the development of the Colonnade as a vital factor in campus life been taken. Her graduation will leave a place that the new staff can only hope to fill. Her contribution will certainly stand as a great stimulus to those neophytes who take over the paper this week.

Parliamentary Law

It has been suggested by quite a number of persons that a course in parliamentary law be offered at G. S. C. W. and all students be required to take the course sometime during their college career. This suggestion has been brought to the attention of the Colonnade by quite a large number of persons during the year, and particularly recently.

We heartily endorse this idea and would like to petition right now for such a course to be installed and all students be required to take it during their enrollment at the college, preferably sometime during the first two years.

At some time or other, most persons have occasion to air their knowledge of parliamentary law, and particularly when teaching and being thrown with students in meetings and so forth.

Since this a teacher's college, and the majority of the students are planning to be teachers, it seems not to be a miss to have such a course in the college curriculum. It makes us wonder why it has not been put in before now. Recent events have shown the dire need for such a course.

Sooner or later most of us will have to conduct meetings in schools where we happen to be employed and will need to know something about the technique required. For that not-so-distant day, we should be prepared.

Since the definition of an education has been changed from "preparing for life" to "living at present" it would seem a sensible thing to know about situations which we meet now. With all the clubs and organizations on the campus, we dare to make the statement that possibly a fourth of them (and that is a broad estimate) of them apply parliamentary law principles in conducting their meetings. From those we have observed, the statement is certainly true.

Therefore, following the suggestions made by a great number of students and faculty members, we would like to suggest to the administrative officers in charge of making out the schedules for next year that a course in parliamentary law—half-course or whole—be put on the schedule and all students be required to take it sometime during their stay at the college.

Dogs

Success comes to him who waits. And we're still waiting.

For months and years college residents have raved and ranted about the numerous dogs that seemed to have a greater hold on the campus in spite of the twelve hundred students and faculty members.

For a time people just talked about the matter. That was as far as it went. Then they complained. Then we editorialized about the matter, particularly when it got to the point where classes couldn't be held in Arts building because of the dog races in the halls at all hours.

And presto! the dogs all disappeared. We thought that a miracle had happened and somebody had read our editorial and acted upon our suggestion. For days there were no dogs on the campus. It was rumored that the city dog catcher had been busy and had taken up all stray dogs.

And then the illusion of a miracle disappeared. The dog which is the greatest nuisance of them all reappeared on the campus and is still reigning supreme, the dog we most wanted to get rid of, the one that grins at all times, and has a habit of biting any and everybody he meets up with.

So, we're still waiting. Surely nobody would claim the dog, but it seems that he could be removed from the campus once and for all time.

Editor's Notes

THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITY

is what America is called. But what about the opportunities for education, employment, enjoyment? The NYA has helped thousands of students and others during the past year, but it won't go on forever, and some provision will have to be made. Particularly, since most jobs at present require a college education. Recently, we saw a cartoon of a man applying for a job as a truck driver for a big shipping concern, and the man in charge said "We employ only college men here." The whole thing was supposed to be a joke, but we wonder if the artist realized how near the stark, utter truth the thing was? It's not funny, at all. Something has got to be done, and done right away. What or how, we wouldn't attempt to suggest. But with the NYA passing from existence June 5, something will have to be done "cope with the student situation."

FINIS

At last, our last issue of the paper rolled around and we can say part of what we have been wanting to say all year, but didn't quite dare because we might lose our job. The pet peeve of the moment is this: We think the men teachers around here should wear their coats to classes. But if they can't cope with the hot weather that long, at least we think they should wear 'em to chapel. Perhaps its old-fashioned, or a desire for a return to days when men were gentlemen or something of that sort, but we'd still like to see the coats. Certain standards of dress are demanded of students at classes, and we think students have a right to ask—even if they don't demand—some things, too.

Another thing: we think a class in parliamentary law should be put in right away and all students required to take it some time during their four years of college.

And regarding the Colonnade: As the new staff takes over the paper, we would like to say some things to the student body and faculty members. As an editor, we feel that it is our right. Disregarding the mistakes that we made, some of which were our own fault, and others which we had nothing to do with, we would like to say:

The staff appreciates criticism. They don't claim to be miniature Brisbanes or Winchells. They are most of them new at this job of getting out a paper, and know that not all they do is as it should. But give them time.

But some people don't realize that a paper is not put together and run off the press in one afternoon. They feel like any time they bring copy to be put in the paper it can get in. The paper has a deadline, and it has to be observed. No copy can be used after a certain time. For next year, a different printing schedule may be arranged from the one used this year. Notices will be printed as to the deadline and so forth, and we would like for all students and faculty members to make a mental note of it, and not bring copy in later, and then lose their collective tempers because the story does not get in the next issue of the paper.

Another thing: If you have a pet grievance against the paper, for heaven's sake air it. The editors won't mind. Or if they do at first, they won't later when they realize the value of the criticism or suggestion. The Colonnade belongs to the campus, and is not the personal ideas of the staff. If any suggestions or criticisms are made, make 'em to the staff where they will do some good and not to persons not connected with the paper.

Phillipa Kolum

Well, it was my fault, my dear readers—or do I have any? Maybe I've just been fooling myself for all these many months. But anyway, to those who do read this "column" I said that I would write my last copy this week. But it seems that the new staff hasn't decided who will be my successor, so here I'm doing this again, and will until school is out. But never mind. I couldn't get many of my former friends back in the short space of a week. So here goes another lot of hoosy.

From all the raving done by the sophs about these placement tests—or whatever they are—you'd think they were gosh-awful. That's all that has been heard for weeks. But they must not be so terrible for some of 'em, because our soph stogie told us that some of the gals wrote their best letters while taking the test, and also that Elizabeth Donovan went to sleep and slept so long that she nearly didn't finish the test. Whalsa matter. Lib, don't they let you sleep enuff at home?

Styles and Kinney seem to be definitely on the rocks lately. And we thought it was such a beautiful romance. Maybe Johnny couldn't take the "tornado" which Ima promised was coming to the Campus and let loose all its feminine fury in Johnny's direction. Anyway, Ima doesn't go to the show nearly as much as she did.

It's what-a-man Robertson, too, that works at Snow's. First, Bruce's on one side of the campus with one of his brunette gal friends, and then the next night he's on the other with the other brunette. It's what we call taking an unfair advantage. But the Bell side of the campus seems to be in the front with the Preston child holding trumps—that is, at present. Bruce seems to be there whenever dates are allowed, and at Ennis when he can't go to Bell.

Somebody told us recently that a group of freshmen in Atkinson had formed a new club, membership being limited to gals whose boy friends were slow about writing—or had quit completely. They have banded together for a common cause, and they want advice. Being a columnist, I should tell 'em to pretend indifference, and to flaunt a new boy friend in the face of the old. That's what they usually say to do. But any advice given by older and more experienced people will be greatly appreciated—particularly from those gals who have had the same experience.

Some strange importations were seen at the junior-senior dance. Several familiar faces were seen, but they were with new gals.

Embellie Thurmond seems to be quite the "tops" with the ex-business manager of the Technique. She gets a line or so every week in that paper. Last week's Technique said that Culver Kidd, Jr., had "divorced" the light of his life at Washington Seminary for Embellie, and no wonder. We agree. The high school gal would have to be mighty cute to beat Embellie.

Also seen in the Emory Wheel: an interesting account of "Caloonie" Calhoun's visit to the Emory dances. It seems that Caloonie and another girl were double dating with Jack Tolbert and another boy when "the" incident occurred. (Continued on page 4)

Choir Closes Successful First Season

Sandersville Concert Closes Year's Program

Sunday evening, May 17, the Milledgeville College Choir presented its last complete concert in Sandersville under the auspices of the churches of the city. With this concert the choir completed a most successful year.

The Milledgeville College Choir was organized in October, 1935, under the efficient direction of Max Noah, head of the music department of G. S. C. W. Coming to Milledgeville from Guilford College, North Carolina, Mr. Noah brought with him a new word—a Cappella. It has become one of the most popular words on the campuses of G. S. C. W. and G. M. C. and is now making its way into the cities of Georgia at a rapid rate of speed. A cappella means "unaccompanied" and this choir sings without any instrumental support whatsoever. This means that each member of the choir must strive for perfect pitch, as the slightest wavering from the pitch would be instantly detected. Intensive training is most necessary. There must be accuracy of attack, release of phrases, perfect harmony, and delicate shading. This music, which is sung without accompaniment, is the highest form of choral work. An accompaniment covers up defects, but this type of singing is in the bare, so to speak, and is good or bad, according to the individuals and the training.

The first public appearance of the choir was on February 6, in the G. S. C. W. auditorium where they sang a group of numbers for the chapel program, and in Madison. During the first week in March a tour of the eastern part of the state was made, including visits to Augusta, Warrenton, Louisville, Waycross, and Lyons. The first complete home concert was presented on March 5. On May 10th and 11th concerts were given in Sylvester, Albany, and Ashburn. Later in the year the choir again presented a complete concert to raise a fund to be sent to the flood districts. On May 8 a group of two numbers was sung in chapel for the parents day program.

It is expected that the principal tour next spring will be made to Florida, the ideal spot being a concert in Miami.

There has been recently organized the Milledgeville College Choir Guild, of which the present choir will be charter members. These include: James Bailey, Jack Beck, Sara Bell, Mrs. Paul Boeson, Paul Boeson, Mary Willie Bowen, Annela Brown, Eltye Vaughan Burge, Nellie Butler, Marvel Cazer, Grace Clark, Jerry Conolly, Elise Dorsey, Grace Drewry, Vallie Enloe, Margaret Fowler, Nan Gardner, Howell Hall, Flora Haynes, Norine Holbrook, Ora Hollis, William Jenkins, Ralph Lawson, Ann Lee Lynch, Richard McGeehee, Doris McMakin, Mildred Moses, Frances Muldrow, Mrs. Max Noah, Margaret Northcutt, Florence Nunn, Margaret Rawles, Marion Reid, Willett Robinson, Roland Ross, Marvin Rubin, Gonzalo Segura, Frances Stovall, Grace Tiley,

Movies

And the Campus still parades with four-star pictures—and here it is May, and the Anniversary celebration was just supposed to last through March! It looks like another week of pictures—that you can't afford to miss. That in spite of the fact that term papers and notebooks are coming into prominence and the library is becoming crowded at all times.

Headlining the week of pictures—you can't afford to miss is "Small Town Girl." That good-looking Robert Taylor provides the romance for the Small Town Girl, who is, incidentally Janet Gaynor whom you haven't seen in anything in ages, especially in a four star picture. The previews look mighty fine. When Robert Taylor first started in the movies he didn't make such a smash hit, but when they started letting him star and have some good parts, he blossomed into the best-looking star on any of the movie lots and one of the best actors. He's head-lined at the handsomest man in movies in years, and it's nearly true. All except when he gets that "consciously cute" expression on his face. But he really is good in "Small Town Girl" and it's a show that you'll be sorry you missed—if you do miss it.

As a tip... Don't go to the show Monday night and expect to get a seat. They won't be available because the sophs and seniors will all be there. Go Monday afternoon or Tuesday.

Catherine Owens, '33, has recently been awarded an $850 fellowship to Bryn Mawr in order to complete her work for a Doctor's degree. She received her Master's degree in Chemistry at Emory in 1935. At a recent meeting of the academy of Science which met in Athens, she was the only woman to read a paper before the chemistry section.

Nell Turner, Norma Underwood, Peggy Van Cise, Ruth Van Cise, and Veazey Wynne. The first meeting will be held on Sunday, May 31, in the Baptist Church at 3:30 P. M. and will be open to the public. At this meeting, which will close the official year, those people who have served satisfactorily this year will be presented with certificates. Col. Joe Jenkins, who has been selected as chaplain, will be the principal speaker. Eltye Vaughan Burge, president, will preside. One of the students will be selected by the choir to direct them in two numbers, "Beautiful Savior," by Christiansen, and "Adoramus Te" by Palestrina.

The choir has received the highest praise from the ministers, school superintendents, and the best music critics. It has made a definite contribution to the student life of the campus, and has established itself as a permanent organization.

This is the only a cappella choir in this section of the south. As a result of its work, it is felt that a higher type of music will be demanded in the church and elsewhere.

Pi Gamma Mu Holds Annual Banquet And Initiation

Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society, held its annual meeting recently at which time seven new members were inducted into the fraternity. Dr. Gordon Singleton, of Mercer University, was the guest speaker for the occasion.

The new members included Mr. W. C. Capel, Miss Iva Chandler, Miss Helen Green, Miss Ida Pound, Rose Herndon, and Florence Knight.

Student requirements for membership include at least 20 hours of credit in social science and a general average of 85 for four years of college work.

At the annual banquet Dr. Singleton was made a life member of the chapter, and Mrs. Francis Potter Daniels, was made an honorary member.

The program included a violin solo by Miss Beatrice Horsburgh, the introduction of Dr. Singleton by Dr. Daniels. Dr. Singleton's address, a piano solo by Miss Maggie Jenkins, and the charge to the new members given by Dr. E. G. Cornelius, president of the local chapter.

Jessies Sponsor

Sponsor season has come again and many G. S. C. W. girls are sporting company colors. Streamers have been seen floating from the shoulders of Virginia Cooper, Luisa Echols, Jewell Fowler, Ann Hubbard, Priscilla Bright, Juanita Ingram, Florence Horton, Vera Hooten, Frances Skinner, Frances Turner, Miriam Middlebrooks, Maurice Kinney, Virginia Baston, Ruth Canford, Rachel Persons, Ruth Meeks, and Marjorie Wood.

Contract Awarded

(Continued from page 1)

After the completion of the building scheduled in Division I of the present building program there will be sufficient funds left to build the health and physical education building here even if no additional government grant is obtainable, according to Regent Bell. The first unit of the gymnasium, the swimming pool, was completed in the fall. However, it is expected that the contracts for this building will not be let until next year.

Collegiate Prattle

The Junior Collegian observes that Dean Stone of West Virginia University says that going to college and getting an education are not always synonymous terms—no, neither are going to the beach and getting blistered.

The Las-O believes that in order to conform with the tenor of his remarks to America and Americans, the English playwright should spell his name "Pshaw". We agree heartily. And judging from his actions, why not IL Duce as "Messolini!"

There are many who are using

Office Practice Classes Inspect Business Houses

The members of the Office Practice classes and several other students in the Commercial Department went on a field trip Thursday to Atlanta where they visited the offices of some of the large business houses.

Thursday morning they were shown through the office of the Georgia Power Company. Then after visiting the Citizens and Southern Bank, they were entertained at luncheon by that establishment.

Friday morning they went through several offices of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Later in the day they were shown through the office of Rich's, Inc. Friday afternoon the students visited the plant of the Atlanta Journal where they were shown through the wire-photo department and other departments of the paper. They saw how news of the world is received and sent. The group returned to Milledgeville Friday night.

This is the second trip of this nature ever made by students in the Commercial Department at G. S. C. W., the purpose being to see the kinds of work, and the kind of equipment they use in their work.

Among those students who took the trip were: Anne Hubbard, Milledgeville; Mary Davis, Atco; Thelma Ledford, Clayton; Anita Tennille, Hardwick; Aline Barron, Thomaston; Alline Wright, Griffin; Elizabeth Morgan, Rockmart; Beth Manning, Barnwell; S. C. Louise Fite, Plains; Eleanor Berry, Orlando, Fla.; Freida Wainwright, Waynesville; Mariha Lowe, Thomson; Jane Little, Milledgeville; Frances Ivey, Thomson; Geraldine Chambliss, Waycross; Dorothy Ruark, Bostick; Mary Pritchett, Griffin; Mayme Allen, Folkston; Edith Buckner, Milledgeville; Blanche Mabbutt, Quitman; Marjorie Hobbs, Dublin; Lila Seyle, Savannah; Rebecca Whittle, Atlanta; Barbara Franklin, Vienna; Dorothy Boddard, Decatur; Jean Abersold, Atlanta; Christine Turner, Tampa, Fla.; and Faye Cathy, Gordon.

They were accompanied by Mrs. J. T. Terry and Miss Fannie B. Harrington. These students will receive either a two-year Commercial Certificate or a B. S. in Secretarial Science Degree in June and are therefore on the threshold of their business career.

cleomargarine who have seen butter days.

They say those big men in Washington are going to lift the depression. How can they when they can't even balance the budget?

According to the Technique, an optimist is a guy who thinks his wife has quit cigarettes when he finds cigar butts around the house. How about a wife who is sympathetic when friends' husband speaks of his "sick friend?"

Beeson Honored

(Continued from page one)

with a few gracious words of thanks.

The students appreciate the fact that we have a person in our midst with all of the fine qualities of Dr. Beeson. We feel that it would not be amiss to give here a few facts concerning his life and work.

He was born August 30, 1867 in Keener, Etowah County, Alabama. He received his A. B., A. M., and LL.D. from the University of Alabama and his Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins University. In September, 1894, he married Miss Leola Selman of Powder Springs, Georgia.

Dr. Beeson has achieved much in his years of work. He began as instructor in Physics at the University of Alabama and chemist for the Alabama Geological Survey. In 1890 he was professor of Chemistry at Shorter College, and next became research chemist for Louisiana Sugar Experiment Station and professor of Chemistry in Louisiana School of Sugar. In 1896, he was elected professor of Natural Science at Bethel College and in 1897 came to the Georgia State College for Women as Professor of Natural Science. From this position he stepped up to the place of professor of Chemistry and Physics here and became acting president of this institution in 1922. He was Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences in 1925, was chairman of the faculty from 1909 to 1927, and was elected President of the Georgia State College for Women in 1928. In 1934 he was made President Emeritus. When made President Emeritus he had been connected with this college for 37 years and had done college and university work for 46 years.

He is a Fellow in the American Association for the Advancement of Science, a member of American Chemical Society (since 1894), Pi Gamma Mu, S. A. R. (past president of Georgia Society), and Academie Latine des Sciences, Arts et Belles Lettres. He is a member of the Board of Education of Baldwin County (since 1919), a Presbyterian elder, deviser of scientific apparatus, author of Beeson Genealogy, and contributor to scientific literature.

Although we cannot express our appreciation of Dr. Beeson with a gold engraved certificate, we can perhaps pay some small tribute with these words. We admire and respect him for his remarkable work and for the excellent service he has rendered our college. We love him for his never-failing sympathy and kindness. We like him thoroughly for his congeniality and his wit. We recognize that he deserves any honor that may be awarded him, and we join the Georgia Section of the American Chemical Society in expressing deepest appreciation for the privilege of knowing a beautiful character and for work well done. And as students of the Georgia State College for Women we pay tribute to Dr. J. L. Beeson—a gentleman and a scholar.

Beeson Certificate

The text of the certificate awarded to Dr. Beeson by the Georgia Division of the American Chemical Society is as follows:

"To Jasper Luther Beeson, Professor of Chemistry, Dean and President of the Georgia State College for Women, scholar, teacher, Christian gentleman. . . this certificate is given by the Georgia Section of the American Chemical Society in appreciation of your work in the field of education for forty-six years and your contributions to the science of chemistry. For your noble work in the education of the daughters of our state, for every sacrifice you have made for the cause of education, for every home you have helped through scientific instruction, for every life that has been made richer by your touch, for every soul that you have brightened and encouraged by your love and sympathy, for your keen sense of humor, and above all, for your contributions to society, we, the members of the Georgia Section of the American Chemical Society, affectionately express our appreciation.

This certificate of merit and appreciation for your noble work, so freely and conscientiously rendered, for your full life, so consecrated to young womanhood and shedding its benediction on future generations, is awarded to you on this the sixteenth day of May, nineteen hundred and thirty-six."

Alumnae

Among the visitors to our campus last week were: Kathryn Vinson (Mrs. Blenus) Williams '32, who is now in Orlando, Fla., Elizabeth Canon (Mrs. S. A.) Nunn '23, who lives at Perry, Ga., and Ruth Vinsen (Mrs. Clarence) Killebrew '35 from Indianapolis, Ind., Ruth was the president of the Y. W. C. A. last year.

Florence Louise Bell '34 of Conyers was married to C. E. Anderson on May 3. They will live at Kite, Ga.

Virginia Cowart '27 (Mrs. Arthur Lee) Mulling has three fine sons, who are triplets. Virginia now lives in White Plains, New York.

CAMPUS

MILLEDGEVILLE, GEORGIA

Wednesday, May 26

"SHOW THEM NO MERCY"
80.00 Thrills 80.00

Thursday, May 27

"THREE LIVE GHOSTS"

Friday, May 29

Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray, in
"THE PRINCESS COMES ACROSS"

Saturday, May 30

"THE WALKING DEAD"
PLUS—
"HITCH HIKE LADY"

Camp Crafter's
At Joy Cliff
On Field Day

(Continued from page 1)

backs attest the fact that swimming was enjoyed morning and afternoon during the camp trip.

Handicraft, bird and star study were in charge of Miss Tait. Plaques, spatter prints and sketches were made during the week-end.

On Sunday night Dr. and Mrs. Wells, Dr. and Mrs. Taylor, Miss Adams and Miss Chandler were guests of the campers. After supper a water formation was demonstrated by Tommy Cooke. Maybelle Swan, Virginia Forbes, Martha Griffith, Frances Roane, Marcie Lanier, Mary Kethley, and "Skeets" Morton. A floated campfire was lit and the evening was closed with a sing.

Regulations for the camp were drawn up by the councillor committee headed by Isabel Allen.

The trip was a required field project of the camp craft class. Class members and their visitors making the trip included: Isabel Allen, Mary Pitts Allen, Mrs. Elizabeth Drake, Virginia Forbes, Catherine Gibson, Martha Griffith, Florence Harrison, Mary Hasty, Sara Hodges, Clara Hollinshead, Mary Jackson, Emmy Jones, Marjorie Lanier, Skeets Morton, Louise Persons, Kathleen Roberts, Evelyn Senn, Vilda Shuman, Rosalie Sutton, Maybelle Swan, Elsie Dorsey, Rosemary Davis, Catherine Malloy.

Nancy Daniels, Margaret Grace, Evelyn Gilroy, Margaret McBride, Dorothy Hester, Marjorie Persons, Vi James, Elizabeth Brown, Mary Price, Mary Kethley, Frances Roane, Sara Ruth Allmond, Tommy Cook, Edna Smith, Sophie Williams, Roxanna Austin, Mary McGriff, Miss Blanche Tait. Guests from the Macon Y. W. C. A. included Misses Byrd, Butler, Higginson, and Mrs. Newton.

The engagement of Lillian McMichael '25 and Carey Owen Pickard of Memphis, Tenn., was announced recently.

Phillipa Kolum

(Continued from page 2)

red. (Jack is the powerhouse Emory frosh debate manager who went back and told the teardrinkers what a hit he made at the soph dance while he and the debaters were here.) Anyway, the foursome went uptown to a movie which had been praised for weeks. It seems just at the minute the tickets were being bought that both of the young men discovered that they had no money at all with which to pay for them. A search in all pockets revealed nothing whatsoever resembling money. The result: Caloonie and the girl friend paid for the tickets. The Wheel completes the story with the fact that, at present, the money has not been repaid.

That seems to be the way with Emory men, going places with gals and forgetting the money. Mildred Watson and I know one special instance in which the money was not forthcoming, and today, after months, nothing has been said about it. (The amount was much more than any theater tickets.) The retiring editors of the Wheel figured in the case. It seems to be habit of the Wheel staff, because Jack Tolbert is a managing editor, also.

—PHILLIPA

SPORTS

WANTED! All tennis fans. There's several matches of tennis being played and surprisingly enough they are good 'nuff to warrant a few spectators. Maybe you are all waiting for the 300 lb. Katy Belle to come out and crack the court, racquet on your side. Take your choice folks, but don't miss that great event. The tournament, although a bit late in starting, has proved to be one of great interest. There's varied opinion as to who the winner will be—but here's betting on her. . . as the case may be.

And we still hear echoes from the Sophomore's Ping Pong tournament. With a ping here and a pong there, and several drastic upsets yonder, we doubt very seriously if the winner will be known before the finals. No more than could be expected though! But what we would like to know is where did Garbutt learn to play and who has been coaching that Bulter girl? You should see her serve! Quite punny! Quite!

In finishing up old business, we are happy and very proud to announce that five of our members passed the rigid basket ball referring examination. Those passing the tests were, Miss Wood, Miss Jennings, Miss Andrews, Frances Roane, and Jane Haddock. Congratulations!

One, two three, shift. And out goes Dan Cupid and his arrows. May 25 and May 27 will be red letter days for all "archers". Mr. Rayfield, of Macon, will present the winners with three grand prizes. First prize, a bow; second prize, and third prize, a set of arrows each. Faculty and students both urged to be present, but your right to play is backed by the number of times you have been out for archery. Welcome all.

If you like swimming, and if you like meets, then keep your eyes open for announcements of big swimming meet. It won't be long now!

And now our thanks to the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes. Have you heard? Did you know? Have you seen? Badminton, Croquet, Shuffle Board? All three games, now available to the entire campus, were donated by the respective classes. Those Freshmen are going east in a rather charming way. Piffle! ole top. it's the berries. And all the time we thought it was Badminton! As a casual observer, the remark of "such a sissy game" reached my ears. But just try your skill once at Croquet with that of Tommy Cookes and Miss Jennings' and you will chance your mind. Shuffle is not a crisp game either.

After much careful consideration the Recreation Board voted on the following motion because it felt the Student Body had developed enough to realize the joy of play. The motion carried was that all upperclassmen with 180 hours be awarded a letter and all Freshmen with 90 hours be awarded a letter and the point

REMEMBER
One of Life's Greatest Steps—
Portrait for Graduation!

Eberhart's Studio*Geography Club Visits Clay Mines

The members of the Geography Club visited on Saturday, May 16, the clay mines, located eighteen miles out of Milledgeville, owned by the Champion Paper Company of Hamilton, Ohio.

Mr. John W. Hutchinson, manager, received the girls and carried them through his office, laboratory, and then out to the mines where they saw how the mining is carried on.

The girls enjoyed sports on the grounds which are arranged and equipped very much like a country club. Later Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson joined them at a picnic supper.

Mrs. Fern Dorris and Dr. Euri Belle Bolton accompanied the members of the club on their visit.

Russell To Speak
On S. America

Mr. Edward Henry Russell of McDonough will speak on "Brazil" to the Geography of South America class on Wednesday morning.

Mr. Russell recently spent six months touring South America, staying most of the time in Brazil. While there he wrote daily articles about his trip for the Atlanta Constitution.

He will make his talk during the regular class hour.

and award system be hereafter abolished.

See you this afternoon at one or all places where there is recreation. Sports are fun, aren't they?

"SANITONE WITH SNOW"
Dresses Cleaned
and
Pressed .....50c
PHONE 440
SNOW'S

Pocketbooks to Match Your Ensemble—At
ROSE'S
5c, 10c, 25c Store

This Week
KATHERINE GIBSON
Gets an 8 X 10 Photo
FREE
Kodak Films Finished
25c Roll
Collegietown Studio

GRADUATIONS CARDS AND GIFTS
AT
WOOTTEN'S BOOK STORE

BINFORD'S DRUG STORE
"A FRIENDLY PLACE TO TRADE"

Advanced Recital
Given Monday By Music Students

Students of Miss Alice Lenore Tucker, Mrs. W. H. Allen, Miss Beatrice Horsburgh, and Mr. Max Noah presented their final advanced recital Monday night, May 18, in the G. S. C. W. auditorium. This performance gave a pleasing finish to the year's work in the music department. The following program was presented:

Rhapsody op. 79 No. 2—Brahms.
Florence Nunn
Arioso—Bach.
Schon Rosmarin—Kreisler.
Josephine Bone
A Memory—Ganz.
Last Rose of Summer (from "Martha")—Flotow.
Nan Gardner
The Swan—St. Saens.
Rondino—Beethoven-Kreisler.
Laurette Bone
Novelette op. 24—Schumann.
Willie Lou Summer
Sparite. O pensiere (from "Admeto")—Handel.
The Ara—Rubinstein op. 32.
The Hills of Home—Oscar Fox.
Ida Williams
Hungarian Dance—Haesche.
Cathryn Cox
Blue Are Her Eyes—Watts.
The Silver Ring—Chaminade.
A Birthday—Woodman.
Eltie Vaughan Burge
Romance op 5—Tschaiakowsky.
Song of the Lark op. 39 No. 22—Tschaiakowsky.
Dorothy McCarthy
Sing, Smile, Slumber—Gounod.
Ishtar—Spröss.
Flirtation—Meyer-Helmund.
Harriet Mincey
Fugue—Bach.
Toccato—Dubois.
Vallie Enloe

It has been rumored that one of the state Universities will give Dr. Allen Roy DaFoe, medico to the quins, an honorary degree.—Red and Black.

Doctor of Litters, no doubt?

12 Different Kinds Ice Cream
REX CAFE
And
ICE CREAM PARLOR
From a Nickel Hot Dog to
A Banquet

BELL'S
Special Sale of Julius Kayser
Silk Hose. All Pure Silk—Full Fashioned.
79c and $1.00
If You Want to Get Good
Milage, Buy Kaysiers.
E. E. Bell Co.